Orbis International Flying Eye Hospital Event at Kansai International Airport

HOYA Corporation, whose mission is to provide eye solutions for every stage of life, will participate in a Flying Eye Hospital event on April 24 at Kansai International Airport in Osaka in conjunction with Orbis International (hereinafter, "Orbis", based in New York, USA), an international nonprofit organization dedicated to the prevention of avoidable vision loss.

Orbis trains, mentors, and inspires eye care professionals in places with the greatest need so they can save and restore vision in their communities. The Orbis Flying Eye Hospital is a fully accredited ophthalmic teaching hospital on board a plane. It is a state-of-the-art teaching facility complete with an operating room, classroom, and recovery room. On board the aircraft, Orbis's Volunteer Faculty (medical experts) and clinical staff have delivered world-class ophthalmic training to local eye care teams in more than 95 countries.

With the arrival of the Flying Eye Hospital in Japan, a joint event with HOYA and Orbis will be held on April 24 at Kansai International Airport.
