Selected as one of the
"Companies with Significant Improvements in Disclosure in 2023"

HOYA Corporation is pleased to announce that it has received the "Companies with Significant Improvements in Disclosure in 2023" award in the Electrical and Precision Instruments category of the Best Companies for Disclosure Awards sponsored by the Securities Analysts Association of Japan.

HOYA Corporation was awarded due to making improvements from the previous year in all five areas below:

- Disclosure at earnings meetings, interviews, explanatory materials, etc.
- Fair Disclosure
- Management's IR stance, IR department functions, and basic stance on IR
- Disclosure of ESG-related information
- Voluntary disclosure in line with the situation of each industry

We will continue to promote disclosure to our shareholders, investors, and other stakeholders to promote understanding of our corporate philosophy, vision, medium- to long-term strategies, and sustainability.
